DAN GILBERT
Majority Owner

Daniel Gilbert is the Chairman and Founder of Quicken Loans Inc., which includes Quicken Loans, Rock Financial and Title Source. Gilbert also is majority owner of the Cleveland Cavaliers NBA basketball team.

Quicken Loans is projecting to close $17 billion in residential mortgage loans in 2005. The company employs more than 3,000 people and is ranked as the nation's largest online retail home lender. Rock Financial is Michigan's largest home mortgage company and two of its brick-and-mortar branches in southeast Michigan are the largest retail mortgage branches in the country.

Quicken Loans Inc. is ranked the 12th "Best Place to Work" in America by FORTUNE Magazine. Computerworld Magazine recently ranked the company #1 on its "Best Places to Work in Technology" list. Rock Financial has been voted "The Best and Brightest Company to Work for in Metro-Detroit."

The company's website "Quickenloans.com" has been named the "Best of the Web" site by Forbes, Money and PC Magazines.

Gilbert founded Rock Financial Corporation in 1985 as a first-year law student. Gilbert, then 22 years old, served as the Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board. Rock Financial grew into one of the largest independent mortgage banks in the country. In May 1998, Gilbert took the company public. Initially a brick and mortar lender, the company launched "Rockloans.com" in January of 1999, which quickly positioned itself as the leader in online retail mortgage lenders.

In December 1999, Intuit Inc. (makers of market leading software TurboTax and Quicken) purchased Rock Financial. The company was renamed "Quicken Loans" and grew substantially as the leading provider of direct-to-consumer home loans on the Internet, offering mortgages in all 50 states. Gilbert remained at the company as its CEO.

In July 2002, 30 months from the sale of Rock Financial, Gilbert led a small group of private investors and purchased the Quicken Loans subsidiary back from Intuit. While Quicken Loans, Inc. is now 100 percent privately held, the company retains all Quicken Loans branding and marketing initiatives, including partnerships with Yahoo!, MSN.com and AOL.com.

Gilbert became majority owner of the NBA's Cleveland Cavaliers in March, 2005. In the short period he has owned the Cavaliers, he has led a complete overhaul of the front office, coaching staff, player personnel, game presentation, as well as renovated the newly named "Quicken Loans Arena," including new seats, state of the art scoreboards, video systems, sound systems, arena graphics, signage, security, locker rooms, and suite upgrades.

Gilbert also is a partner in private investment group Camelot Ventures, which invests in and operates technology and consumer-based businesses. Some of the past and current investments have included contact lens retailing companies Lens 1st, Lens Express and 1-800-Contacts; Kintana, a technology chain automation software developer; and Red Envelope, a leading online and catalog retailer of stylish gifts. Camelot has recently made a substantial investment in privately held California based non-embryonic stem cell company, Cellerant.

Gilbert was Rawlings Sporting Goods' largest shareholder and was instrumental in effecting the sale of Rawlings to K2 in March 2003.

He also has been a partner and investor in numerous commercial and residential real estate ventures including the prestigious Baldwin Park high rise condominium development in Orlando, Florida. He served on the Board of Directors of Great Lakes Bancorp, a publicly-held $3 billion Michigan thrift, and led the move to sell the company to Minneapolis-based TCF Bank.

Gilbert is the president of JARC, a non-profit organization providing housing and services to the developmentally disabled, and sits on the board of The Children's Tumor Foundation (formerly the Neurofibromatosis Foundation) in New York City. He also serves on the Board of Trustees for the Children's Hospital of Michigan Foundation.

Gilbert has earned the "Entrepreneur of the Year" award from Ernst and Young in 1999 and was inducted into the Junior Achievement Hall of Fame in May 2003.

Gilbert received an undergraduate degree from Michigan State University, a law degree from Wayne State University and is a member of the Michigan State Bar.

OWNERSHIP

DAVID KATZMAN

Vice Chairman

David Katzman is Vice Chairman of the Cleveland Cavaliers. He is also the Managing Partner for Camelot Ventures and Vice Chairman, Quicken Loans.

Camelot Ventures is a private investment group which invests in technology and other businesses. Some of the past and current investments have included contact lens retailing companies Lens 1st, Lens Express and 1-800-Contacts; Kintana, a technology chain automation software developer; Rawlings Sporting Goods; and Red Envelope, a leading online and catalog retailer of stylish gifts.

After 12 months of passively investing with Camelot Ventures, Katzman resigned from The Home Depot on April 1, 2000, to pursue venture investing and advising full time.

As former President of the Home Depot S.O.C., a division of The Home Depot USA, which specializes in the processing of special orders for The Home Depot stores nationwide, his responsibilities included developing The Home Depot's call center strategy for North America, process flow for handling special orders from initial customer contact to vendor payment, and full systems integration between the call centers, the internet, the vendors and the stores. While President of this division, The Home Depot's overall store sales grew from $20 to $40 billion throughout North America."

Katzman began his career by working in various retail positions with chain store experience until he founded DeeKay Enterprises, Inc., in 1987. This was the start of a 10-year run at successfully launching a variety of consumer oriented companies including a Midwest home decor retail chain, Habitat; the nation's second largest direct to consumer contact lens company, Lens1st; and the number one direct to consumer home decor company, National Blinds and Wallpaper.

Home Depot purchased DeeKay Enterprises in 1997 and acquired all of the assets to strategically enter the direct to consumer marketplace and strengthen its special order systems in the stores.

Katzman sits on the Boards of Directors for Quicken Loans, the nation's largest online direct mortgage lender, and formerly served on the board of 1-800-Contacts (NASDAQ - CTAC) the largest direct to consumer contact lens company in the world. Other Board positions include RealAge.com, a medical advocate and permission marketing site with over 1.5 million registered and active users.

He earned a B.A. in accounting/finance at Michigan State University and attended Detroit College of Law for his graduate work.

Katzman is involved in a number of community organizations including past Chairperson of HAVEN charity (a non-profit that supports domestic abuse cases), Honorary Host of ORT charity (an educational non-profit) and JARC (a non-profit that serves the developmentally disabled). Katzman also is an all around fund raiser for numerous other non-profits.

GORDON GUND

Twenty-two seasons ago, it looked as though the Cavaliers might be headed out of Northeast Ohio until Gordon, now 65 and a native of Cleveland, and his brother George stepped in to purchase the club at the last minute, keeping the team at The Coliseum.

The Gunds presided over the resurgence of The Coliseum and the design and construction of Gund Arena which opened at the beginning of the 1994-95 season. Under the guidance of the Gunds, building records were set in attendance and bookings in both facilities, while the Cavaliers recorded one of the largest increases in home attendance in the NBA over the past 20 seasons. In October 1996, Gund was elected Chairman of the NBA's Board of Governors and served in that capacity for three years.

In March of 2005, Gordon Gund sold a majority ownership stake in the Cavaliers, including the lease rights to Gund Arena (renamed Quicken Loans Arena in September of 2005), to the group headed by current Cavaliers majority owner, Dan Gilbert and fellow minority owner David Katzman. Gordon retained a minority ownership stake in the franchise.

As a former co-owner, with George, of the Minnesota North Stars of the National Hockey League, Gordon and his brother were instrumental in building that franchise before its eventual sale in the spring of 1990. At that time, Gordon and George were granted an NHL expansion team that began play as the San Jose Sharks for the 1991-92 season. The Gunds sold their majority stake in the Sharks during February of 2002.

The expertise displayed by Gordon in the sports world has been evident in his other interests as well. He serves as the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Gund Investment Corporation, which is involved in diversified investment activities. Gordon is a director of the Kellogg Company of Battle Creek, Michigan, and of Corning Incorporated of Corning, New York. He also recently served as a board member of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

Gordon now devotes a great deal of energy to national charitable and philanthropic causes. In 1971, he and his wife, Lulie, were members of the founding group of The Foundation Fighting Blindness, headquartered in Baltimore, Maryland and Gordon is its National Chairman. This foundation is dedicated to finding treatments and cures for retinitis pigmentosa and allied degenerative diseases of the retina, such as Usher syndrome and macular degeneration. These diseases as a group affect more than nine million Americans and are the leading causes of blindness and deafblindness in the United States today.

Gordon is a graduate of Harvard University and has honorary doctorates from the Goteburg University in Sweden, University of Maryland, Whittier College and the University of Vermont.

LEN KOMOROSKI

President, Cavaliers/Quicken Loans Arena

Len Komoroski was named President of the Cavaliers/Quicken Loans Arena, which includes the newly-christened Quicken Loans Arena – "The Q", in April 2003. He spent the previous seven years as Senior Vice President and Chief of Business Operations for the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

A seasoned business executive, Komoroski brings more than 20 years of experience in professional sports and entertainment to the organization. His leadership and business initiative bring a solid foundation from which the Cavaliers and The Q can continue to thrive and flourish.

For the 2003-04 season, Komoroski oversaw the restructuring of how the Cavaliers approached the business community, including the development of a staff featuring some of the top sports marketing executives in the industry. The collective efforts both on and off the floor resulted in one of the top business turnaround stories in NBA history. The Cavaliers had the largest year-over-year attendance increase in NBA history, progressing from a league-low of 11,497 per game in 2002-03 to 18,288 in 2003-04 – a 59% increase. Television ratings were up 300% and featured revised broadcast agreements resulting in the largest number of locally-televised games in team history. Radio ratings also increased by more than 200% and local merchandise sales grew by 500%. The Cavaliers also experienced the largest increase in corporate partnership revenue in the NBA last season. He also led the charge in the transformation of the Cavaliers communications efforts and dramatic changes in developing one of the most dynamic game experiences in the NBA.

The 2004-05 season saw more of the same, with average home attendance of 19,128 – the second highest average in team history, continued substantial growth in corporate sales revenue and more radio and television ratings growth of approximately 20% over the previous season's dramatic numbers. The Sports Business Journal also named the Cavs website as the best in the NBA and one of the best in sports. In addition, for the 2005-06 season, Quicken Loans Arena is undergoing a major presentation transformation, including a state-of-the-art LED scoreboard and display system, enhanced arena aesthetics throughout the building, upgraded sound capabilities and new wine-colored seats to better reflect team spirit.

While with the Eagles, Komoroski brought many properties in-house, including the Eagles Television Network, which is the largest developer of local programming in the NFL. Under his guidance, the Eagles established the fan-friendly NFL Training Camp, which was the most heavily attended in the league, featuring autograph sessions, interactive games, hospitality and an extraordinary merchandise tent. He also helped broker a record-setting naming rights deal with NovaCare, garnering a reported $66 million for the Eagles training facility, the NovaCare Complex.

Komoroski also played a leadership role in the development of Lincoln Financial Field, the Eagles state-of-the-art stadium. Through his efforts, the Eagles secured a 20-year, $140 million naming rights agreement with Lincoln Financial Group, one of the largest such agreements in pro sports history. He and his business group orchestrated the successful sellout of 172 suites, 8,000 club seats, 29,000 Stadium Builder Licenses and a waiting list of over 40,000 for season tickets.

Through the efforts of Komoroski and his team, the Eagles were among the most successful NFL teams in securing long-term seven-figure per annum "Founding Partner" relationships for new stadia; in addition, they forged many other substantial six-figure per annum agreements. He also completed top-tier industry agreements for Eagles radio and television coverage and concession agreements for Lincoln Financial Field. Behind Komoroski's leadership, the organization secured major soccer events, concerts, Division I college football games and the Army/Navy Game, establishing Lincoln Financial Field as one of the most active stadiums in sports. Through these efforts and events the Eagles have become one of the highest grossing franchises in professional sports.

This is Komoroski's second stint in the NBA, having been with the Minnesota Timberwolves from 1988-94 and having played a major role in the start-up of the team and its arena, the Target Center. While Komoroski was Vice President of Sales and the senior sales and marketing official for the team and arena, the Timberwolves became one of the most financially successful organizations in the league. After Minnesota, he came to Cleveland as Senior Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of the International Hockey League's (IHL) Cleveland Lumberjacks, and immediately transformed the Lumberjacks into a flourishing enterprise. Both attendance and revenues saw sharp increases during Komoroski's time, and the Lumberjacks were one of three profitable IHL teams in 1996.

Komoroski got his start in sports in 1982 with the Pittsburgh Spirit of the Major Indoor Soccer League, followed by management roles with the Pittsburgh Penguins of the National Hockey League and the Minnesota Strikers of the MISL, and as a regional manager for the Miller Brewing Company's sports marketing arm.

Komoroski's achievements in professional sports have attracted considerable attention, and he has assumed leadership positions in several capacities. He is on the board of directors of the Cleveland chapters of City Year, the American Red Cross and the United Way, as well as the board of the Greater Cleveland Convention and Visitors Bureau. He is also a member of the Young Presidents Organization, the 50 Club and the Bluecoats.

Komoroski is a 1982 cum laude graduate of Duquesne University. He and his wife Denise are the parents of three daughters – Kristin, Kelly, Jamie and one son, Zachary.

2004-05 Cavaliers Season Review

A YEAR FOR THE AGES: LeBron James' second year in the NBA was one of the greatest seasons by an individual in NBA history and the best season by any member of the Cleveland Cavaliers franchise. He set numerous team and league records on his way to posting some of the most impressive statistics in recent memory. The following is a rundown of James' accomplishments during the 2004-05 season:

- Became just the fifth player in NBA history to post averages of 27.0 points, 7.0 rebounds and 7.0 assists for an entire season. James joined NBA greats Larry Bird (1 time - 1986-87), Michael Jordan (1 time - 1988-89), John Havlicek (2 times - 1970-71 and 1971-72) and Oscar Robertson (6 times - 1960-61 through 1965-66) in that elite class.
- Shattered the franchise record for points in a season by posting 2,175 points for the year. It bested the previous record held by Mike Mitchell during the 1980-81 season when he scored 2,012 points.
- Smashed the franchise's single game points record by dropping 56 points at Toronto on March 20. The 56 points were the second most scored in the league during the season (60 by Allen Iverson) and the most ever by a Cavalier - breaking the previous record held by Walt Wesley when he scored 50 points vs. Cincinnati on Feb. 17, 1971. In that game, James also became the youngest player in NBA history to score 50+ points in a game.
- Became the youngest player to ever have 3,500 points, 1,000 rebounds and 1,000 assists in a career. The previous record was held by Kobe Bryant who had those numbers at 22 years, 161 days old. James was 20 years, 110 days old when he accomplished the feat on April 19th (James' 158th game). James was also the second -fastest player to reach that milestone. Oscar Robertson holds the record by posting those numbers in 115 games.
- Became the second player in franchise history to be named an All-Star starter (Shawn Kemp). James went for 13 points, eight rebounds and six assists in the game.
- Set the franchise record for minutes played in a season by posting 3,388 minutes in the season. The previous record was held by Wesley Person who played 3,198 minutes during the 1997-98 season.
- Became the youngest player in NBA history to post a triple-double with his 27 points, 11 rebounds and 10 assists at Portland on January 19. On that day, James was 20 years and 20 days old. He posted another triple-double just three days later at Golden State and finished with four triple-doubles on the season.
- His four triple-doubles were the most ever by a Cavalier in one season and his four also tied him for most triple-doubles by a Cavalier (Andre Miller and Brad Daugherty each had four triple-doubles in a Cavaliers' uniform)
- Set the Cavaliers' franchise record for scoring average in a season by averaging 27.2 points per game. The previous record was held by Mike Mitchell during the 1980-81 season when he averaged 24.5 points per game for the season.
- Became the first Cavalier to ever be named Eastern Conference Player of the Month (November and January) and the first Cavalier to be named the Eastern Conference Player of the Week three times in one season (November 8-14, November 22-28 and January 17-23)
- Became the youngest player to score 2,000 points in their career when he did it on November 27, 2004 at the age of 19 years, 272 days old. The previous record was held by Kobe Bryant who accomplished the feat at the age of 20 years, 184 days old.

ALL-STARS X 2: For just the fifth time in Cavaliers' history, the team sent two players to represent Cleveland in the NBA All-Star Game. LeBron James was voted in by the fans as a starter for the Eastern Conference becoming just the second player (Shawn Kemp) in team history to start an All-Star Game. He also became the second youngest All-Star starter in NBA history behind Kobe Bryant. On the day of the game (Feb. 20), James was 20 years, 52 days old while Kobe Bryant was 19 years, 169 days old when he played in the All-Star Game on Feb. 8, 1998. Zydrunas Ilgauskas and James became the first Cavalier teammates to be named All-Stars together since the 1993 season (Daugherty, Nance and Price) and became the fifth set of two or more teammates to be named to the team in franchise history. Ilgauskas also became the seventh player in team history to be named to at least two All-Star teams while members of the Cavs. In the All-Star Game, James went for 13 points, eight rebounds and six assists while Ilgauskas came off the bench to post 12 points, seven rebounds and two blocks in the East's 125-115 win at the Pepsi Center in Denver, CO.

HOME COOKING: During the 2004-05 season, the Cavaliers turned Gund Arena into a true home court advantage. Cleveland sported a 29-12 (.707) record at home this season - the Cavaliers' best home record since the 1993-94 season when the Cavs went 31-10 (.756) at the Coliseum. It tied for the sixth-most home wins in a season in team history. Here's a look at a few of the Cavaliers' stats at home versus the team's stats on the road:

CHANGE AT THE TOP: On March 1, the NBA approved the purchase of the Cleveland Cavaliers by an investor group led by Dan Gilbert, chairman and founder of Quicken Loans, the nation's largest online lender and Michigan-based home mortgage company Rock Financial. Gilbert became the fourth owner in the 35-year history of the Cavaliers franchise. In addition to Gilbert, the new ownership group includes (but is not limited to) David Katzman, Vice Chairman of Quicken Loans and Managing Partner for Camelot Ventures, and Grammy-award winning recording artist Usher Raymond IV. Gordon Gund, who retained a minority ownership position, was the Chairman of the Cavaliers/Gund Arena Company beginning at the start of the 1983-94 season until the ownership change was completed during the 2004-05 season.

THE .500 CLUB: The Cavaliers finished the year with a record of 42-40. Cleveland posted a .500 or better record for a season for the first time since the 1997-98 campaign when the team went 47-35. It also marked the 14th time in the 35-year history of the franchise that the team finished with a .500 or better record.

CAVALIER COMBO: During the 2004-05 season, Cavaliers' All-Stars LeBron James and Zydrunas Ilgauskas became the highest-scoring duo in franchise history. James averaged a career-high and team-best 27.2 points per game while Ilgauskas ranked second on the team with an 16.9 points-per-game average. Combined, they set the highest scoring average of any Cavaliers teammates in franchise history. Here's a look at the all-time highest scoring duos (minimum 50 games played as Cavalier in season):

HIGHEST SCORING DUOS IN CAVALIERS HISTORY
Top Scorer (Avg.)	Second Scorer (Avg.)	Total Points Combined (Season)
LeBron James (27.2)	Zydrunas Ilgauskas (16.9)	44.1 (2004-05)
World B. Free (23.4)	Roy Hinson (19.6)	43.0 (1985-86)
World B. Free (24.2)	Cliff Robinson (18.0)	42.2 (1982-83)

LEADING THE WAY: During the 2004-05 season, LeBron James led the Cavaliers in scoring on 64 occasions. That set the franchise record for leading his team in scoring. Here's the top four all-time in franchise history: LeBron James (64 - 2004-05), Austin Carr (51 - 1973-74), Ron Harper (51 - 1986-87) and Mike Mitchell (49 - 1980-81)

SWITCH IT UP: The Cleveland Cavaliers announced on March 21, 2005 that Paul Silas had been relieved of his duties as head coach and assistant coach Brendan Malone would serve as the Cavaliers' head coach. Additionally, Stephen Silas was dismissed from the coaching staff. Malone became the 16th head coach of the Cavaliers. Malone, the first-ever coach of the Toronto Raptors, had been a coach in the NBA for 19 years and carried nearly 40 years of coaching experience overall. He won a pair of World Championships as an assistant coach with the Detroit Pistons in 1989 and 1990. Malone became the first Cleveland head coach since Lenny Wilkens on November 1, 1986 to win their first game as the head coach when the Cavaliers beat the Pistons 91-76 on March 22nd.

BIG GAME JAMES: LeBron James' 56-point outburst on March 20 at Toronto set several Cavaliers and NBA records. Here's a look at James' accomplishments that afternoon in Toronto:

- Shattered the Cavaliers' franchise record for points in a game (previously 50 by Walt Wesley on Feb. 19, 1971 vs. Cincinnati)
- Became the youngest player in NBA history to record 50 points in a game at the age of 20 years, 80 days (previously Rick Barry at 21 years, 261 days)
- Bested his previous career high of 43 points (vs. Detroit on Nov. 24, 2004)
- Set career highs in points (56), points in one half (29), field goals made (18), field goals attempted (36).
- The 56 points were the second most scored in an NBA game during the season (Allen Iverson 60 points on Feb. 12, 2005)

GOOD TO GO: Drew Gooden was instrumental in the Cavaliers' success this season. He was the only player to play in every game this season and is one of only two Cavaliers (Shawn Kemp) in franchise history to record at least 1,000 points, 750 rebounds, 100 assists, 75 steals and 75 blocks in one season. He scored a career-high 33 points versus Milwaukee on Jan. 30 including 27 in the second half. Gooden scored in double figures on 65 occasions and led the Cavaliers in rebounding in 37 games. His 37 double-doubles this season tied him for eighth in the league in that category. Gooden set career highs in nearly every statistical category (points, minutes played, rebounds, field goal made and attempted, field goal percentage, free throws made and attempted, free throw percentage, assists, steals and blocks).

CENTER OF ATTENTION: Cavaliers' All-Star center Zydrunas Ilgauskas had one of his best years as a pro in 2004-05. He played in 78 games (78 starts), averaging 16.9 points, 8.6 rebounds and 2.1 blocks in 33.5 minutes per game. He scored in double figures on 67 occasions and posted 24 double-doubles this season. Ilgauskas was named an Eastern Conference All-Star for the second time in his career this season (2003, 2005). He set a franchise record and career best by recording 299 offensive rebounds and made a career-high 402 free throws on 503 attempts, shooting a personal best from the line of .799. 'Z' also ranked among the NBA's best in offensive rebounds per game (2nd in the league at 3.8 per game), total offensive rebounds (first in the league with 299), blocked shots (sixth in blocked shots with 165), blocks per game (eighth in the league with 2.1 per game) and rebounds per game (19th with 8.6 rebounds per game).

STAT STUFFER: LeBron James' season averages of 27.2 points, 7.4 rebounds and 7.2 assists placed him among the all-time greats for a season. It also placed him second among all NBA players in terms of the total of points average, rebound average and assist average. Here's a look at the top five players in that category in the NBA:

1. Allen Iverson - 42.6
2. LEBRON JAMES - 41.8
3. Kevin Garnett - 41.4
4. Kobe Bryant - 39.5
5. Dirk Nowitzki - 38.8

TRIPLE-DOUBLE TIMES FOUR: Prior to posting his first career triple-double on January 19 at Portland, LeBron James had missed the feat by just one rebound or one assist three times in his career. That all changed on January 19 when James became the youngest player in NBA history to record a triple-double at 20 years-20 days old. Just three days later, he notched his second career triple-double with 28 points, 12 rebounds and 10 assists at Golden State on Jan. 22. James recorded his third triple-double of the season with 40 points, 10 rebounds and 10 assists on April 9 against Milwaukee and then posted number four in the team's season finale at Toronto on April 20 with 27 points, 14 rebounds and 14 assists. Here's a look at the youngest players in NBA history to record a triple-double:

UP, UP AND AWAY: LeBron James' Rookie of the Year season in 2003-04 was one for the record books. He became the youngest player and first Cavalier to win the Rookie of the Year award as well as becoming one of just three players to average over 20+ points, 5+ rebounds and 5+ assists during their rookie season (Oscar Robertson, Michael Jordan). As remarkable as his rookie year was, he was even better during his sophomore season. James' numbers increased in almost every major statistical category. Here's a look at LeBron's rookie year numbers as opposed to his numbers during the 2004-05 campaign:

2004-05		2003-04

ALWAYS EFFICIENT: One way of ranking the effect a player has on a game is by looking at a players efficiency ranking. The formula to calculate efficiency is: ((PTS + REB + AST + STL + BLK) - ((FGA - FGM) + (FTA - FTM) + TO)) / G.
LeBron James ranked second in the league with a 28.24 efficiency ranking per game while Zydrunas Ilgauskas finished 30th in the league in efficiency with a 19.19 rating and Drew Gooden was 33rd with a 18.89 ranking. Here's the top five in the league in that category:

1. Kevin Garnett - 31.96
2. LeBron James - 28.24
3. Dirk Nowitzki - 28.13
4. Amare Stoudemire - 26.76
5. Shawn Marion - 25.59

STARTING TO SNOW: Cavaliers' point guard Eric Snow finished the season ranked fifth in the league in assists-to-turnovers ratio (3.56 to 1.0). Snow played in 81 games and made 15 starts this year. In those starts, Snow averaged 5.2 points, 2.8 rebounds and 5.9 assists. When Snow dished out seven assists or more in a game, the Cavaliers posted a 10-4 record. In the final two games of the season (two starts), Snow averaged 8.0 points, 4.5 rebounds and 9.5 assists per game.

SECOND YEAR SENSATION: LeBron James' second year in the NBA was nothing short of spectacular. James followed up his Rookie of the Year freshman season with an even better sophomore campaign. His second year statistics place him among some of the all-time great players at that point in their careers. Here's a look at James' second year statistics as opposed to those of several of the game's greats:

PLAYER	YEAR	PPG	RPG	APG	SPG	FG %
LeBron James	04-05	27.2	7.4	7.2	2.2	.472
Larry Bird	80-81	21.2	10.9	5.5	1.9	.478
Kobe Bryant	97-98	15.4	3.1	2.5	0.9	.428
Grant Hill	95-96	20.2	9.8	6.9	1.3	.462
Allen Iverson	97-98	22.0	3.7	6.2	2.2	.461
Magic Johnson	80-81	21.6	8.6	8.6	3.4	.532
Michael Jordan	84-85	22.7	3.6	2.9	2.1	.457

STREAKING FOR SIX: The Cavaliers put together their longest win streak of the season when they posted wins in six straight games from November 9 - 20. In those games, Cleveland won by an average of 15.6 points per game. The Cavaliers averaged 102.8 points per game, 49.2 rebounds, 23.7 assists and shot .468 from the field as a team in those wins. The six-game win streak was one win short of tying the Cavaliers' longest win streak from the 2003-04 season when Cleveland rattled off seven straight wins from March 3 - 16, 2004.

WESTERN WARRIORS: The Cavaliers finished their games this season against Western Conference opponents with a 16-14 record (.533). Cleveland is just one of four Eastern Conference teams to finish with a winning record against Western Conference opponents (Detroit, Miami and Washington) this season. This also marks the first time since the 1997-98 season (19-9) that a Cavaliers team had finished with a winning record against the West.

SHOOTING THE LIGHTS OUT: LeBron James scored 22 points in the second quarter on 8-10 shooting (5-7 from three-point range) in the Cavaliers victory over Milwuakee on April 9th. The 22 points in a quarter were a career best for James and tied the Gund Arena record (shared by Allen Iverson and James Robinson) and was one point shy of the Cavaliers all-time record for most points in a quarter (23 points - Terry Furlow and World B. Free). James' five three-pointers in one quarter tied him with Mark Price (3/9/89 @GSW), Steve Kerr (1/6/90 @ORL) and Wesley Person (3/4/98 vs. TOR) for most three-pointers made in a quarter by a Cavalier.

FOURTH-QUARTER MAGIC: In the Cavaliers' 109-108 overtime comeback victory over the New Orleans Hornets on March 28, Cleveland had one of their biggest fourth-quarter of the season. The team erupted for 38 points in the period on a scorching 11-14 (.786) shooting from the field, including knocking down five of their seven three-point attempts (.714). LeBron James scored 17 points in the final period on 5-6 shooting while Sasha Pavlovic added 11 points on a perfect 4-4 shooting in the period. Pavlovic, who had not played before the fourth quarter, also knocked down all three of his three-point attempts, setting a new career high in three-point makes. Cleveland made 11 straight field goals and 10 consecutive free throws, going 10 minutes without a single miss.

MR. DO IT ALL: LeBron James led or tied for the lead in points, rebounds and assists for the Cavaliers in 11 games this season. He did it four times in the final 12 games of the season. The last time was in the regular season finale when he put up 27 points, 14 rebounds and 14 assists at Toronto. He also accomplished the feat twice as a rookie (Nov. 29, 2003 vs. Memphis and April 9 at Miami).

Cavaliers All-Time Retired Jerseys

Nate Thurmond (No. 42)
Height: 6-11 Weight: 235
Position: Center
Jersey Retired on Dec. 18, 1977

Long before Nate Thurmond had arrived to the Cleveland Cavaliers on Nov. 27, 1975 and led the five-year old franchise to its first playoff appearance had Thurmond held a warm spot in the hearts of Northeast Ohioans.

Born Nathaniel Thurmond on July 25, 1941 in Akron, Ohio, the 6-foot-11 center starred at Akron's Central Hower High School before taking his talents to Bowling Green State University. As a Falcon, Thurmond averaged 17.8 points and 17.0 rebounds over three varsity seasons, earning All-America honors as a senior in 1963.

Drafted by the San Francisco Warriors with the third overall pick in the 1963 NBA Draft, Thurmond learned behind Wilt Chamberlain for a full season before the Warriors traded Chamberlain midway through the following season clearing room for Thurmond to flourish. A dominant defensive player whom Chamberlain and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar both credited as their toughest defender, Thurmond was named to the NBA All-Defensive First or Second Team on five occasions (1969, '71-74) and was honored as an NBA All-Star seven times (1965-65, '70, '73-74). Thurmond is also acknowledged in NBA history as the first player to ever record a quadruple-double.

Thurmond was traded to the Chicago Bulls after 11 seasons as a Warrior and two trips to the NBA Finals (1964 and 1967). Thurmond spent two seasons in Chicago before the Cavaliers acquired the center for Steve Patterson and Eric Fernsten.

Home in Ohio again Thurmond led the 1975-76 Cavaliers team that started 6-11 without him to a 43-22 finish and the playoffs, helping give birth to the season better known as "the Miracle of Richfield."

The following season would be Thurmond's last as he retired at the end of the season. He was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1984 and named to the NBA's 50th Anniversary All-Time Team in 1996.

The Cavaliers retired his jersey on Dec. 18, 1977.

Bobby "Bingo" Smith (No. 7)
Height: 6-6 Weight: 195
Position: Small Forward
Jersey Retired on Dec. 4, 1979

On May 11, 1970, the Cleveland Cavaliers drafted 11 players in the 1970 Expansion Draft. Two never put on a Cavaliers uniform. Of the remaining nine, all but one played four seasons or less in Cleveland.

The one, Bobby Smith, played 10 seasons and over 700 games with the Cavaliers, helping to shape and mold the young expansion team into playoff contenders.

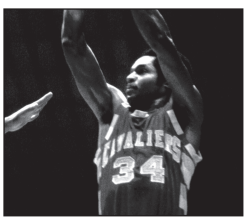
Better known as "Bingo," Smith spent his rookie season with the San Diego Rockets before being selected by the Cavaliers in the Expansion Draft. Smith and his patented 'rainbow jumper' became bright spots through Cleveland's early years as the team quickly improved. With each passing season, the versatile small forward remained a constant and consistent performer even leading the 1974-75 Cavaliers that finished 40-42 and one game out of the playoffs in scoring at 15.9 points per game.

The following season Cleveland made the playoffs for the first time and Smith added a bit of magic to the season that has become known as the "Miracle of Richfield." With home court advantage already lost and the Cavaliers trailing in their first round series against the favored Washington Bullets, 1-0, Smith and his rainbow jumpers helped Cleveland find a pot of gold. In Washington for Game 2, Smith scored a team-leading 17 points and made the game-winning shot with just seconds remaining to secure the 80-79 victory. The win served as the first playoff victory for the franchise and propelled the Cavaliers past the Bullets and into the Eastern Conference Finals against Boston where they eventually fell in six games.

Smith played four more seasons in Cleveland, helping guide the Cavaliers to the playoffs two more times before finishing his career with the San Diego Clippers.

"Bingo" ranks in the top 10 all time in franchise history in nine different categories [Games Played (2nd), Field Goals Made (2nd), Field Goals Attempted (2nd), Minutes Played (3rd), Points Scored (4th), Assists (10th), Free Throws Made (10th) and Free Throws Attempted (10th)].

The Cavaliers retired his jersey on Dec. 4, 1979.



Austin Carr (No. 34)
Height: 6-4 Weight: 200
Position: Shooting Guard
Jersey Retired on Jan. 3, 1981

Going into their second season as a franchise, the Cleveland Cavaliers held the No. 1 overall pick in the 1971 NBA Draft and aimed to get an impact player. With their pick, the Cavaliers selected Austin Carr, a high-scoring shooting guard and two-time All-American at Notre Dame.

Carr proved not only to be the impact player the Cavaliers sought, but much more.

As a rookie, Carr immediately became the top option on offense averaging 21.2 points and became the first Cavalier named to the All-NBA Rookie Team. Known as "A.C." by teammates and fans alike, the sweet-shooting fan favorite averaged 20 or more points the following two seasons, highlighted by Carr's selection as an All-Star in 1974.

Just as Carr began to reach elite status in the NBA, misfortune struck. On Dec. 5, 1974, Carr suffered a knee injury that eventually cut short his season and forced him to undergo surgery.

Carr persevered and returned strong, playing in all 82 games in three of the following four seasons. Even after the injury, Carr's impact as a scorer and leader remained present as he never averaged less than double digits in his career and led the Cavaliers to the playoffs on three occasions during his nine-year tenure in Cleveland.

After the 1979-80 season, Carr's final with the Cavaliers, he won the Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award for his substantial contributions to the Cleveland community.

Carr remains the franchise leader in field goals made and attempted and ranks second in points scored. He also ranks among the franchise leaders in free throws made and attempted (4th), steals (4th) and minutes played (4th).

For his efforts on and off the floor, Carr was selected by 32 members of the media in Northeast Ohio to the Cavaliers' All-Time Starting Five during the Cavaliers 30th Anniversary season of 1999-2000.

He remains deeply involved in the organization serving as Director of Community and Business Development as well as the full-time analyst for the Cavaliers Television Network.

The Cavaliers retired his jersey on Jan. 3, 1981.

Larry Nance (No. 22)
Height: 6-10 Weight: 235
Position: Power Forward
Jersey Retired on Jan. 30, 1995

Undoubtedly, the 1986 NBA Draft that brought the Cavaliers Brad Daugherty, Ron Harper and Mark Price brought a youthful injection of much-needed talent and skilled players to an evolving franchise. The acquisition of the three college stars instantly made the Cavaliers good.

But perhaps it was the final acquisition of power forward Larry Nance that made the Cavaliers go from good to great and led to the most successful era in team history. On Feb. 25, 1988, Cleveland sent Kevin Johnson, Mark West, Tyrone Corbin, a first-round draft choice in 1988 and two second-round picks to Phoenix in exchange for Nance, Mike Sanders and Detroit's first round pick in 1988.

Known as "Leapin' Larry" for the dunking prowess that made him the first-ever Slam Dunk Champion in 1984 and his strong shot-blocking skills, Nance brought his high-flying, power game and six years of experience to a team in desperate need of a veteran.

Nance filled that void remarkably, helping the Cavaliers win 11 of their final 13 games that season and make the playoffs.

The following season in many respects served as the greatest in franchise history as the Cavaliers won a franchise-best 57 games (which was later tied by the 1991-92 team that Nance also starred on) and went 37-4 at home. Nance was named an NBA All-Star for the first of two times in 1989 and was joined on the squad by Daugherty, Price and head coach Lenny Wilkens.

Spearheaded by the trio of Nance, Daugherty and Price, the Cavaliers made the playoffs in each season the group played together besides 1990-91, where Price was limited to just 16 games after tearing his ACL.

A tenacious defender, Nance is the only player in franchise history to be named to the All-Defensive First Team (1988-89) and the only Cavalier to make the team three times (1988-89, 91-92 and 92-93).

He ranks among the Cavaliers All-Time leaders in blocked shots (2nd), field goal percentage (2nd), rebounds (4th), field goals made and attempted (6th), minutes played (7th) and free throws made (7th) and attempted (8th).

Nance was named to the Cavaliers' All-Time Starting Five by 32 members of the Northeast Ohio media during the Cavaliers 30th Anniversary season.

The Cavaliers retired his jersey on Jan. 30, 1995.

Brad Daugherty (No. 43)
Height: 7-0 Weight: 263
Position: Center
Jersey Retired on March. 1, 1997

10,389 points scored. 5,227 rebounds grabbed. 2,741 free throws made. 3,670 free throws attempted. Five All-Star appearances made. Four triple-doubles recorded.

Those numbers represent the various statistics in which Brad Daugherty is the Cavaliers all-time leader and why he is one of the greatest players in franchise history.

The number one overall draft pick of the 1986 NBA Draft, the 7-foot center was pivotal along with then-fellow rookies Ron Harper, John Williams and Mark Price in re energizing and improving the franchise. The multi-skilled Daugherty was named to the All-Rookie Team and quickly joined elite status as an NBA center while leading the Cavaliers to the same.

Daugherty played in the first of five All-Star games in 1988 and then led the Cavaliers to the playoffs for the first time in three seasons that April. The following season Daugherty and the Cavaliers won a franchise-record 57 games, including going 37-4 at home.

After an injury-plagued 1989-90 season in which Daugherty missed the first 41 games, he returned to All-Star status. He became the first and remains the only player in franchise history to average 20 or more points and 10 or more rebounds in the same season. He reached that feat in three consecutive seasons (1990-93), being named an all-star in the process each of those years.

In the 1992 NBA Playoffs, Daugherty cemented his place as one of the best in the league by leading the Cavaliers to the conference finals. He averaged 21.5 points on .528 field goal shooting, 10.2 rebounds, 3.4 assists and 1.0 blocks in 40.4 minutes per game during the 17-game run. In the first round against New Jersey, he scored a Cavalier playoff-record 40 points on April 23.

Cleveland made the playoffs in all of the seasons Daugherty played but two and he led the Cavaliers in scoring in all but three of his seasons.

Just entering the prime of his career at 28, Daugherty suffered an ill-fated career-ending herniated lumbar disc in mid-February of the 1993-94 season.

Despite having his outstanding career cut short, the North Carolina native had already broken the afore-mentioned Cavalier records. He remains in the top 10 all-time in field goal percentage (2nd), minutes played (2nd), field goals made and attempted (3rd), scoring average (4th), blocked shots (5th), assists (5th) and steals (10th).

As part of the Cavaliers 30th Anniversary in 1999-2000, Daugherty was unanimously named by 32 members of the Northeast Ohio media to the Cavaliers' All-Time Starting Five. He was the only player to garner all 32 votes.

The Cavaliers retired his jersey on March 1, 1997.

Mark Price (No. 25)
Height: 6-0 Weight: 180
Position: Point Guard
Jersey Retired on November. 13, 1999

They say lightning doesn't strike twice in the same place. But for the Cavaliers on draft day in 1986, it did.

Prior to June 17, Cleveland acquired the first overall pick in the 1986 NBA Draft from Philadelphia in exchange for Roy Hinson and considerations. With the first pick, Cleveland selected center Brad Daugherty.

At the top of the second round, the Dallas Mavericks selected Mark Price with the 25th overall pick. The Cavaliers then traded their second-round choice in 1989 and other considerations with Dallas for the rights to the 6-foot All-American from Georgia Tech.

Unknowingly, the Cavaliers acquired two of the greatest players in franchise history that day. Price and Daugherty helped the team turn the corner and join the NBA's elite while becoming the cornerstones of the Cavaliers franchise.

While Daugherty started as a rookie, Price learned on the bench for a year before unseating John Bagley. Once a starter, Price never looked back.

Widely regarded as one of the best shooters in NBA history, Price and his picture-perfect release guided the Cavaliers to their most successful run in franchise history. With the exception of the 1990-91 season in which he tore his ACL and played only 16 games, the Cavaliers made the playoffs and won at least 42 games every year Price was a starter.

The sweet-shooting point guard was named an All-Star four times (1989, 1992-94) and is the only Cavalier to be named to an All-NBA Team more than once (1988-89, 1991-94), including All-NBA First Team in 1992-93.

Price led the NBA in free throw percentage twice (1991-92, '92-93) and won the NBA's Long Distance Shootout back-to-back years (1993-94).

Not just a shooter, Price ranked in the top 10 in the league in assists in five of his nine seasons as a Cavalier.

For his career, Price ranks first among all Cavaliers in three-point field goals made and attempted, assists, steals and free throw percentage. He also ranks among the top 10 all-time in franchise history in points scored (3rd), three-point field goal percentage (3rd), free throws made (3rd), field goals made (4th), field goals attempted (4th), games played (5th), free throws attempted (5th) and minutes played (5th). Price was named to the Cavaliers' All-Time Starting Five by 32 members of the Northeast Ohio media during the Cavaliers 30th Anniversary season. He was also the leading vote-getter on the Cavs All-Time Team, as voted on by the Cleveland fans.

The Cavaliers retired his jersey on November 13, 1999.

Cavaliers Uniform/Logos History

By Joe Gabriele

Did you know that the famous saying, "Clothes make the man" was a quote by Mark Twain? (And if so, did you know the rest of that quote says, "Naked people have little or no influence on society"?)

The Cavaliers have had their share of unique threads over their 35 year history. Cleveland has changed their look ten times, going full circle – kind of – when they returned to the wine and gold on April 16, 2003. One day after completing a 17-65 season and five weeks before they won the rights to draft an 18-year-old from Akron.

Granted, it was a new expression of the wine and gold, but the Cavaliers current threads are among the league's most popular, something that could not have been said of the previous uniforms. The 18-year-old from Akron has a lot to do with it – in one survey, LeBron James jersey was No. 1 in sales, the Cavaliers uniform, No. 4. But a lot of it has to with the fact that Cleveland's most recent uniforms are just – for lack of a better expression – really cool.

Fans identified with the wine and gold. Not only are they attractive colors as well as the team's original flavor. But the items themselves – "wine" and "gold" – fit perfectly with the swashbuckling theme of a Cavalier. The Cavaliers don't just wear the wine and gold, they are the Wine and Gold. The same way Ohio State is the Scarlet and Grey or Michigan is the Maize and Blue.

In between the current attire and the first expression of wine and gold back in 1970, the Cavaliers have dabbled in burnt orange, royal blue, bright orange black and pastel blue. There have been three seismic uniform shifts in the franchise's 35 years, not all good.

In 1970, the inaugural Cavaliers donned the original gold uniforms at their 11,000 seat venue – the old Cleveland Arena – on Euclid and 37th. The Cavaliers went with gold at home and wine on the road, a tradition that they continued throughout their first 13 years in the league.

The first uni's had the feathered underscore of "Cavaliers" on each jersey, home and road. The logo, which has (thankfully) survived throughout the club's three-and-half decades, had the words "Cleveland Cavaliers" wrapped around a basketball and featured a silhouette of a Cavalier figure jousting with his sword. The logo is every bit as recognizable to Clevelanders as the Indians' "Chief Wahoo."

Cleveland's new expression of the old expression of the wine and gold came about in 1974 and made their triumphant comeback in 2005. The garb that adorned the "Miracle of Richfield" team featured piping with short horizontal stripes of wine, gold and white stacked along the sides of the shirts and shorts. Again, both the home and away jerseys read "Cavaliers."

Long before the current club donned the Miracle jerseys in an actual game – a 104-79 drubbing of the Knicks on January 8 – you could see rappers adorned in No. 34 Austin Carr attire on BET or on the streets from Cleveland to the Big Apple.

In 1981, as the final remnants of the Miracle squad faded into the sunset, the Cavaliers went to a wine and gold scheme that is more reminiscent of today's colors than the original hues. The Mike Mitchell-era team went with a metallic gold with a pair of horizontal stripes with the word "Cleveland" written above it in block letters.

The organization and the team were making big changes in the 1980s and the radical departure from the club's original colors – and its identity – came in the form of the burnt orange and royal blue threads with the word "CAVS" written across the chest. The "V" was designed like a hoop with a ball entering it, which also served as Cleveland's new logo.

The Cavaliers retained the colors – and slight variations on the look – throughout their final, and highly successful, years at the Richfield Coliseum. The burnt orange as the primary road color was replaced by the royal blue road uniforms in 1987 and the "CAVS" logo was replaced with the block "Cleveland" before the 1989 season.

This attire will forever be linked to the Lenny Wilkens era of excellence that featured the likes of Mark Price, Brad Daugherty, Larry Nance and Hot Rod Williams.

When the Cavaliers began play at Gund Arena in the 1994-95 season, there was once again a radical departure from the previous look. From the wine and gold to the burnt orange and royal blue, the Cavaliers went with pastel blue and black. Home uniforms were white, road black, with a blue splash across the torso and lined lettering that said "CAVS" at home and "Cleveland" on the road, both outlined in orange.

The Cavaliers modified this look in 1997, sticking with the color scheme, but losing the mystifying torso splash. Instead, the uniforms featured a more streamlined blue and orange piping along the right side of the shirts and shorts. The futuristic lined letters remained.

But in October of 2002, then-owner Gordon Gund decided to bring Cavaliers fans back to the future when he announced, "Our fans take pride in our team and really identify with the things that make Cleveland different. They want a team whose identity was 'true to Cleveland.' With that in mind, we set out to have colors, logos and uniforms that reflect our history and look forward at the same time. These new marks represent what our fans and we believe is the right match for Cleveland and for the Cavaliers."

The new colors were announced on October 9 – the current "new expression of wine and gold" – a crimson-hued wine color and a metallic gold, similar to 1981 uni's. Dark blue, the secondary color, was a tribute to the Cavalier teams of the 1990s.

The Cavaliers uniforms may undergo more changes as the LeBron James era unfolds, especially in light of the team's new ownership. But old school Cavalier fans are just glad that the team recognized its roots and the colors that best represent the team and the city.

Like the Boston Celtics green or the Oakland Raiders black and silver, the Cavaliers are their best in the wine and gold. It's no surprise that the Cavaliers are now lined up for big things. After all, the clothes make the man.

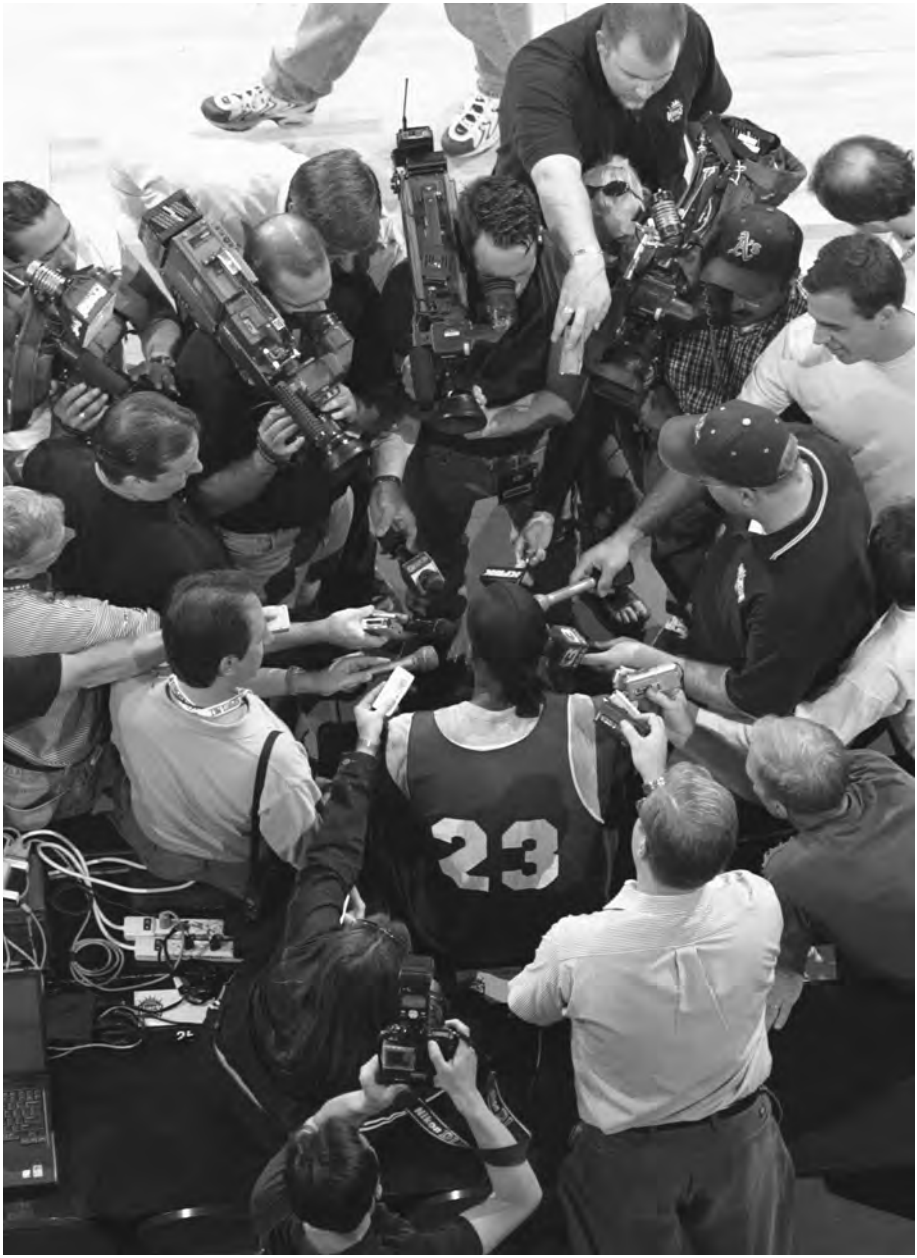
Media Information



Media Information

The Cleveland Cavaliers Public Relations Department welcomes you to the 2005-06 NBA season. It is our goal to provide a professional and productive working environment. To assist in your coverage of the Cavaliers, please note the following:

Credentials: You must have a Cavaliers credential (season or single-game) or an NBA media pass to be admitted to Quicken Loans Arena, and your credential must be visibly worn at all times. Credentials should be requested through the Cavaliers public relations office.

Your credential does not guarantee a seat. Please contact the PR department no later than 5:00 p.m. the day before a game (5:00 p.m. on Friday for weekend and Monday games) to reserve a seat in the press seating areas. Single-game credentials can be picked up at the media entrance, located at the south end of Quicken Loans Arena (off of Gateway Plaza adjacent to Jacobs Field). Photo ID is required to obtain your credential.

Season and single game credentials are non-transferable and any unauthorized use will subject the bearer to ejection from Quicken Loans Arena and the forfeiture of the credential. No autographs are allowed during media access periods.

Media Entrance: The media entrance is located at the south end of Quicken Loans Arena (across from Jacobs Field) and opens two hours prior to game time. All members of the media must enter the building through this entrance.

Media Workroom: The media room is located on the event level at the north end of Quicken Loans Arena, adjacent to the Cavaliers locker room, and is accessible only with a valid credential. The room opens two hours before game time and remains open until the last member of the media is finished working.

In order to provide the proper working environment, friends, relatives or guests of the media will not be permitted access to the media workroom.

Telephones: A limited number of telephones are provided for general use in the media workroom. Individuals using those phones should make all calls on a collect, third-person or credit card basis. If you would like to order your own phone line, please contact the public relations department.

Services: A pregame meal will be available to working media at the cost of $8.00. Meals will be available starting 90 minutes prior to tip-off. In addition, snacks and beverages will be available at halftime in the media room.

Seating: Seating is assigned in all media sections; seating charts will be available in the media workroom. There are electrical outlets at all locations, and telephones are located at various points courtside and in auxiliary media sections in section 126 and 103.

TV and Radio: Visiting television broadcast positions will be courtside, adjacent to the visitors' bench. Radio broadcast positions will be in the radio booth in Section C126. If statisticians are desired, please make arrangements with the Cavaliers public relations staff at least 24 hours before game time. All requests for pregame or postgame interviews should be directed to the Cavaliers PR department.

Photographers: Photographers are asked to keep off of the sidelines and to be considerate of the season ticket holders seated directly behind them. Photographers must be on assignment from a recognized news source; freelance photographers will not be credentialed. Photographers are asked to wear rubber-soled shoes and are required to have rubber lens shades for their cameras. Only television photographers doing post-game interviews will have access to locker room areas.

Locker Rooms: In accordance with NBA policy, both locker rooms are open to members of the media during pregame for a 45-minute period that ends 45 minutes before the scheduled game time. Post-game media availability follows a 10-minute cooling off period. Only working members of the press with the appropriate credentials will be admitted to the locker rooms. The Cavaliers locker room is located at the northeast corner of Quicken Loans Arena, while the visitors' locker room is located on the east side of Quicken Loans Arena.

Cell Phone Use in Locker Room: Per NBA policy, cell phones are no longer permitted to be used in the locker room by any media member.

Parking: Full-season parking passes will be assigned by the Cavaliers PR department on a limited basis. For those media members who receive full season parking privileges, the media parking area will be located in the Gateway East garage.

Transportation: There is public transportation via RTA to Quicken Loans Arena, with bus service to the Arena, as well as RTA rapid transit (from Cleveland Hopkins Airport) to Tower City. There is a covered walkway from Tower City to Quicken Loans Arena.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact the Cavaliers PR department at (216) 420-2350.

Cleveland Cavaliers
2005-06 Television Coverage

Cavaliers To Have Every Game Televised For Second Consecutive Season; Cavaliers to Make 32 National Television Appearances

For the second consecutive season, the Cleveland Cavaliers will have every regular-season game televised. All 82 games of the 2005-06 regular season will be aired on either FSN Ohio, UPN 43 WUAB, ABC, ESPN, NBA TV or TNT.

FSN Ohio will air 40 games and UPN 43 WUAB and the Cavaliers Television Network will air 30 games during the 2005-06 season. FSN Ohio will broadcast 26 home games and 14 road games while WUAB will carry 11 home games and show 19 away games.

Over the past two seasons, the Cavaliers have experienced tremendous growth in both attendance and in the broadcast ratings. Since the 2002-03 season, Cleveland's attendance at home has increased from 11,497 to 19,128 (67 percent increase) including 18 sellouts last season. After seeing their ratings more than triple between the 2002-03 season and the 2003-04 season, UPN 43 WUAB increased its ratings 18 percent and FSN Ohio saw an increase of 15 percent during the 2004-05 season.

The Cavaliers will appear on national television 32 times during the season on the national television outlets of ABC (5), ESPN (10), NBA TV (9) and TNT (8). 11 games (six on TNT and five on ABC) will be exclusive telecasts shown nationally on the respective networks. On several occasions, Cavaliers games will be shown both by a national television outlet and locally.

FSN Ohio will feature a new broadcast team as 15-year NBA veteran and former Cavalier Scott Williams will join longtime Cavaliers' broadcaster Michael Reghi on FSN Ohio broadcasts. For the 12th straight season, Reghi will handle the play-by-play duties while Williams begins his first season as the analyst.

FSN Ohio will continue to air a pregame show called Cavaliers Countdown hosted by Jeff Phelps and Austin Carr and a postgame show called Cavaliers In The Post with Andy Baskin and Austin Carr as part of every broadcast. FSN Ohio reaches more than 4.5 million households in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, western Pennsylvania, western New York and West Virginia.

UPN 43 WUAB will begin its coverage of the 2005-06 season on November 5 when the Cavaliers travel to Memphis to take on the Grizzlies at 8:00 p.m.

Reghi will also handle the play-by-play duties for UPN 43 WUAB, marking his 10th season with the station. Cavaliers' legend Austin Carr returns for his seventh season as the full-time analyst. The station will once again feature a pregame show called Cavs Warm Up. The show, airing prior to 20 Cavaliers games, will be hosted by Brian Duffy and Campy Russell.

UPN 43 WUAB is broadcast throughout Cleveland, Akron, Columbus, Canton, Youngstown and other parts of Ohio. Other key outlets on the Cavaliers Television Network are GTN51/WSFJ in Columbus, WRCX in Dayton, WLQP in Lima and WBGN in Pittsburgh, PA.

Joe Tait

Vice President, Broadcasting

Joe Tait returns for his 34th season as the voice of the Cleveland Cavaliers. As the club's radio play-by-play announcer, Tait has become one of the most recognizable and popular members of the Cavaliers and he is synonymous with the team itself. On Nov. 26, 2002, when the Cavaliers hosted the Sacramento Kings, Tait broadcasted his 2,500th Cavaliers game, further illustrating his long and memorable tenure as the voice of the Cleveland Cavaliers.

For the first 11 years of Cavaliers history, he was the voice that let everyone know "It's basketball time at The Coliseum" (or, "It's basketball time at the Cleveland Arena" until the 1974-75 season). During that time, he became an institution in the area while earning a reputation as one of the top sportscasters in the country.

In 1981, he left Cleveland to become the radio play-by-play announcer of the New Jersey Nets. A year later he handled the play-by-play of Chicago Bulls games on SportsVision, the team's cable-TV outlet, and broadcast the CBS Radio College Game-of-the-Week. Tait returned to the Cavaliers radio post in 1983.

After 11 consecutive seasons of calling games at The Coliseum, Tait had to again change his famous lead-in from "It's basketball time at The Coliseum" to "It's basketball time at Gund Arena" for the 1994-95 season, when the team moved from The Coliseum to Gund Arena in downtown Cleveland. For the 2005-06 season, Tait will, yet again, alter his lead-in to"It's basketball time at Quicken Loans Arena" as another era of Cleveland Cavaliers basketball begins under new Cavaliers owner and founder of Quicken Loans, Inc., Dan Gilbert.

In December, 1987, Tait was named Vice President of Broadcast Services for the Cavaliers. In that full-time role, Tait was involved in all aspects of the Cavaliers radio and television broadcasting, while continuing his duties as radio broadcaster. From 1987-88 to 1990-91, Tait performed the television play-by-play duties for the 20 games each season which were telecast on WOIO-Nineteen and the Cavaliers Television Network. For the past 10 seasons, Tait has broadcasted all 82 games on News Radio WTAM 1100 and the Cavaliers Radio Network which covers most of the state of Ohio and includes 16 affiliates. Prior to his full-time association with the Cavaliers, Tait broadcast Cleveland Indians baseball for 16 years. He has also done selected college basketball games that were carried nationally on the CBS Radio network. Tait was named the 2004 "Sportscaster of the Year in Ohio." He also received the honor in 1974, 1976, 1978, 1991, 1996, 1999 and 2002. In addition, Tait was voted the best radio/TV announcer in the area in a poll conducted by the Cleveland Plain Dealer in 1985 and 1986. Tait kept active during the summer of 1992 as the play-by-play voice of the World Basketball League on both SportsChannel America and ESPN.

A graduate of Monmouth College in Illinois, Tait began his radio career while still in college, broadcasting local sports events in the Illinois/Indiana area. In 1969, Tait became the network voice of Indiana University football and the pregame host of Indiana Pacer basketball in the old ABA. A year later, with the birth of the Cavaliers, Tait began his association with the club. Also, Tait was an instructor in sportscasting at Ohio University (1966-68) and at Mount Union College (1989-1994). In the fall of 1996, Tait was named to the Board of Trustees for Mount Union College in Alliance, Ohio, where he has been the TV voice of the Purple Raiders for 17 seasons.

Throughout his broadcasting career, Tait has been honored with a number of awards, including being elected to the Monmouth College Athletic Hall of Fame in October 1991, to the Media Hall of Fame by the Sports Media Association of Cleveland and Ohio (S.M.A.C.O.) in September 1992 and to the Broadcasters Hall of Fame in October 1992. In November 1996, Tait was awarded the C.S. Williams Founders Award by the Broadcasters Hall of Fame for long and meritorious service in broadcasting. They have recently given him The Broadcasting Legacy Award for 2004. In the summer of 2001, he was inducted into the Cleveland Sports Legends Hall of Fame and the Lorain Sports Hall of Fame. He was also inducted into the Cleveland Press Club Hall of Fame in September of 2003.

Tait and his wife, Jean, reside in Lafayette.
